Dear Mr. Navasky,

The enclosed xerox of a yesterday's Baltimore Sun article relating to one aspect of the Statute of Liberty restoration may be of interest to you and those who wrote your several pieces about it and Iococa.

I have it opened to the last part and I've marked a quote that I think underscores what your authors were getting at.

With all the enormous amount of wasted money, imagine cancelling a contract on those very symbolic gates! And having most of the ultimate costs to pay after the cancellation!

I knew Danny Hurwitz when he was a teenager and when he had just begun this fine work. I'm not absolutely certain but I believe his grandparents came through Ellis Island.

Sincerely,

Harold Weisberg
